

Evening with Maya Angelou planned

The Fair Lawn League of Women Voters as part of the Interleague Organization of Bergen County has joined with Women United in Philanthropy and Fairleigh Dickinson University, as well as more than 40 Bergen County women's groups, organizations and businesses, to sponsor a remarkable evening on May 6 at the Rothman Center in Hackensack featuring Dr. Maya Angelou – poet, author, professor and one of our country's most extraordinary woman.

The event, An Evening with Maya Angelou: A Celebration of Mothers, Daughters and the Sisterhood of Women, is a pre-Mother's Day event designed to encourage women to bring a guest. Tickets are $100 for two attendees. The program will begin at 7 p.m. Doors will open at 5 p.m. Parking is free.

A pre-event gathering will take place from 5 to 7 p.m. for all attendees, showcasing local women-run businesses, service organizations and programs. Attendees will have a chance to meet and network with women who care about women and learn more about the resources that exist for women and girls in Bergen County.

For tickets, go to www.wuip.org/order2.cfm or call 201-291-0619. For more information about Dr. Angelou, visit mayaangelou.com.
